

GREEN SHIFT TIPS FOR LESS PLASTIC

As governments look for practical and feasible strategies that could be used to reduce single use plastics we, as individuals also need to do our part in the midst of this plastic pollution crisis. A few packaging reduction tips for our own green shift:

- Buy a few reusable shopping bags – and use them instead of plastic. They are washable and will last for years.
- Until our produce bags are compostable, put in your shopping bag and reuse as many times as you can.
- Bring your own containers. Use for bulk purchases, takeout food, at the fish & deli counter or for leftovers to take home from restaurants.
- Don't buy bottled water. Fill your reusable one at the kitchen sink.
- Use your own mug at a coffee shop.
- Refuse straws, extra packaging whenever possible.
- If you cover bowls with cling wrap, reuse if not touching food, or better yet reuse Etee wraps for up to 150 times.
